

Digital Conversion of Self-help Television Retransmission Sites

Discussion Paper Submission 2

This discussion paper lists the self-help sites and proposes that any site serving less than 500 people should not be converted to digital. Instead these people should buy a satellite dish and digital satellite receiver.

Unfortunately the list does not indicate which sites would be left out and which would be funded for conversion. The 2006 census data is now available.

A spreadsheet is attached, indicating the population of each centre.

- Yellow background indicates any site under 500 people.
- Pink background indicates this site already has digital transmitters.
- WOW (WIN) Mawson, is the only commercial regional/remote digital TV transmitter in WA. It is used as a program source for low powered analog transmitters in the Central agricultural area.
- The red tick indicates a transmitter on this site for that network.
- Site with no population indicate are not identified as a town/suburb in the census. Their population can be determined by finding the census collection district which are numbered not named.
- Sites which are crossed out are deserted.
- Some sites now have new names due to development.
- Some sites only have one self help transmitter and the others are funded by broadcasters.

Network numbering

LCN	Network	LCN	Network
1	TEN Metropolitan	6	Seven affiliates
2	ABC	7	Seven Metropolitan
3	SBS	8	Nine affiliates
4	Miscellaneous	9	Nine Metropolitan
5	TEN affiliates

Questions

- At what population does a site transfer from a self-help site to a broadcaster responsibility? There are 7 sites serving populations of more than 10,000 each.
- For sites of less than 500 when will the analog transmitters be switched off?
- What happens at sites with large variations of population for example
 - fly-in/fly-out sites, such as Argyle WA
 - seasonal variation such as the snow season at Thredbo NSW
 - Aboriginal nomadic sites

Please note that the attached spreadsheet has been compiled from;

- the list in this discussion paper
- the ACMA's transmitter list
- the ABS's 2006 census
- Google Earth.

It has been prepared with care, however before final decisions are made the DCITA should check the affected sites.
