

I just wanted to email you to say that I fully support captioning on all electronic media-not just pay TV.

Although I am hearing I do have deaf friends who can then have the same access to what we the hearing community take for granted.

And sometimes, I must say, if the programmes are full of different dialects or Americans speaking very quickly {ie West Wing} my husband and I put the captions on so we don't miss any of the plot-it really enhances our enjoyment.

Plus if the TV is on in a public space with captions then the information can be viewed while we either eat lunch, drink our coffee, wait at the airport or whatever.....without the need for extra noise.

Thank you for taking the time to read this Angela Abrahams

--

angela abrahams solicitor